Property Description

Casa La Donna has the feeling of privacy and connection with the rainforest that is hard to find in today's market for this price without sacrificing convenience to town amenities. The three-bedroom two-bath home has been recently updated and the garage has been converted into a third bedroom. From the home you can hear the ocean surf breaking, and there is a walking path to the secluded La Macha Beach *See pictures. The land behind the home has plenty of room for more construction and an addition here would not compromise the unique feel of the property. This is an ideal property for someone who wants to be in touch with nature.
