Property Description

This incredible ocean view castle in Matapalo Costa Rica boasts spectacular ocean and sunset views. The home is built from solid stone, just like a castle. From the deck you can see all the way from the Osa Peninsula and Isla del Caño to the Nicoya coastline. Matapalo is an idyllic beach between the more popular beaches of Dominical and Manuel Antonio. There you will have the ocean pretty much all to yourself, but still you are only 15 minutes in either direction to where all the people are congregating. The house is 280 meters (919 feet) above sea level, which allows it to enjoy cool ocean breezes in the day and refreshing mountain air at night. The mountains looming behind the home are teeming with wildlife such as monkeys, a variety of jungle cats, peccaries, deer and more. Hawks, falcons, parrots, macaws and toucans are only a small fraction of the diversity in birds that frequent the surrounding jungle.
