Property Description

As soon as you set foot on the grounds of this award winning hotel and restaurant, you will understand why it is one of the consistently most highly rated boutique hotels in the world. See it from a guest's point of view. From the private, exclusive setting on the side of a Costa Rican tropical mountain 1800 feet above the coast, all guests can see the jungle dropping away in front of them to a view of the vast Pacific Ocean in all of its changing colors and moods. Every private room and public space shares that view. The abundant untamed plant and animal life leaves guests feeling as though they are in a combined aviary, zoological garden and arboretum. Each of the five villas and five suites is a luxurious experience in comfort. From the beds to the walkout shower gardens and decks, rooms cater to those who want to be in the jungle, but don't want to sacrifice a languid evening with a cocktail.
