Property Description

Luxury Ocean View Villa with Private Pool A lazy morning at San Martin is like a mix of Modern Home and National Geographic. After disconnecting from the Internet and the modern décor of a luxurious split-level townhouse, a few steps through a patio door takes you into a whole different world of worlds. To the west, a ridge overlooks Malibu-style vistas of the Pacific coastline and its protected waters and marine life. In the blink of an eye, the descent of toucans into the rainforest canopy shifts your presence into a different room of Mother Nature's abode. Life at San Martin integrates into the fabric of the surrounding culture and lush landscape. Built on bluffs overlooking San Martin beach, on the very edge of jungle preserve lands, The Terraces at San Martin immerse you in Costa Rica's natural wonders. The townhouses form an exclusive gated community embedded in the emerald rainforest, where inspirational Pacific sunsets are just part of a daily routine.
