Property Description

One of a kind! Breezy terraces with beautiful ocean views, above the fray of Dominical Beach—but only a 10 minute drive away! There is no boutique hotel or eco-resort to service Dominical, known the world over for its surf and other precious qualities, which could compare to the privileged combination of silence, freshness, ocean views, and exclusiveness offered by this location 1,000 feet above the sea—nor in the stretch between Manuel Antonio and Uvita, for that matter. A new private road to the beach has recently been opened, for the exclusive use of this site and a small group of ex-pat residential neighbors. This site is an obvious choice for a visionary eco-developer or hotel owner, and we don't expect it to last long on the market. One can come out the property by a different road and reach the second largest city in Costa Rica, San Isidro in just over half an hour. This is the regional hub of choice for banking, dentistry, private hospital, etc.
