Property Description

If you're looking for a property for a "campus", retreat center, organic farm, or estate, look at this one. The 45.5 acres include plenty of cleared land that you can use for buildings or planting. You won't have to worry about getting permissions to clear it for your purposes. Toward the back, then, there is hilly jungle and a stream where you can create walking paths, mountain bike trails, meditations spaces and more. Access is about as good as it gets for a property with this much privacy. You will be just 2 minutes from a paved highway, 3 minutes from Platanillo's grocery stores and Tico restaurants, 18 minutes from Dominical's beach, and 25 minutes from all of San Isidro's restaurants, grocery stores, hardware stores, movie theater, weekly farmer's market and other stores and services. It's the largest city in southern Costa Rica. The views are all around you. In the back and on one side look across valleys to the mountains.
